Protect confidential information from your documents by securing your print job with a configurable PIN.

Documents are held in the printer and released only when a PIN is entered. With the additional layer of verification, this eliminates security risks when printouts are left unattended. It also indirectly reduces paper wastage in the event of a misprint.

- Scan to SMB: Scan your original documents through the platen or automatic document feeder (ADF) and store your files in the network folder via SMB protocol.
- Au-Send: Send function is available only to authenticated users, deterring various types of potential data leakages.
